Warm greetings to all of you.

There is no denying the maxim that education is the backbone of knowledge. Indeed, education is knowledge and knowledge is power. NEF Law College is spreading its wing-like branches like an evergreen tree and it is heartening to read all about it in the form of the annual magazine "VIDHIKA". Over the years, the institution has provided the students with opportunities to explore and grow, through situations that challenge them to identify their strength & reinforce them.

The words of the greatest scientist and former President of India, Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam aptly speak of our vision.

'You cannot change your future, but you can change your habits and surely your habits will change your future.'

I take the privilege to congratulate the esteemed faculty members, valued administration, beloved students and parents for their strong sense of commitment, service and responsibility that have transformed this institution into a wonderful temple of learning today.

SHRADDHAANJALI

The highest tribute of the dead is not grief but gratitude

Mr. Nilayananda Dutta, popularly known as Nilay Dutta, a Senior Advocate of the Supreme Court, Official of the Assam Cricket Association, Indian Cricket umpire, have lived a benevolent life until the age of 68 as he passed away on 12th of September 2021 due to a massive heart attack.

He was one of the most talented legal luminaries of Assam and often very rightfully called the "Naughty Genius" amongst his colleagues. His contribution in catering justice through law and order can hardly be commemorated in a few words.

Nilay Dutta born in Guwahati in the year 1953 was the son of Dr. Bhabananda Dutta and Nilima Dutta. He was solely raised by his mother as his father had passed away when he was at a young age.

He was a high-spirited child and excelled in his academics securing the top ranks in secondary and higher secondary education. He also completed his degree in field of law with flying colours.

Since a young age he was known for his courageous acts in proclaiming justice. He endorsed law as the supreme source of justice and acceded that every human has the right to it. He also believed that the growing scope of free legal aid services to common people would contribute immensely in the growth of law and justice in the country.

He was also acclaimed and awarded as a distinguished member of the Bar by the Bar Association of India during its annual "Lawyers of India Day".

Apart from his impeccable accomplishments in the field of law he has also managed to create significant contribution towards the sports administration.

Nilay Dutta was the youngest Ranjit Trophy umpire of India. He was the cricket umpire, referee, administrator and served as the vice president of Assam cricket Association.

While his death has left an irreplaceable void, his inspiring achievements and undeniable contribution to his field shall be cherished forever.

With deep condolences to his wife, son and daughter may his soul forever rest in peace and his memories always stays with us.

An Interactive Session With Former Chief Justice of India Mr. Ranjan Gogoi

"Faith is a matter of individual believe. Value of a Secular Constitution lies in Mutual deference".
Justice Ranjan Gogoi on Ayodhya Dispute

As the jovial aura of Rongali Bihu celebration had just sewed up, NEF Law College had encountered a golden opportunity to make acquaintance with the Former Chief Justice of India Honorable Mr. Justice Ranjan Gogoi on 19th April, 2022 at his very own residence. This particular initiative was taken by the Respected Principal Dr. Bhuban Chandra Barooah Sir accompanied by two Faculty members of NEF Law College, Ms. Abhilekha Kakoti and Ms. Sudarshana Roy along with two students, Barasha Kalita and Nabaneel Bhuyan.

The Honourable Justice (Retd.) Ranjan Gogoi is widely appreciated as a voice of the reason of Indian Judiciary. Having retired on 19th November, 2019, the Former CJI has had a memorable stint in the Supreme Court of India because of his contributions to several landmark judgements including the Ayodhya Case, the Rafale Case, the Sabarimala Case. He also led a Bench that monitored and ensured the National Register of Citizens exercise in Assam.

As we entered the premises, the amicable and calm environment of his residency could certainly depict his glorious contributions to the Indian Judiciary. The interview began with the felicitation of the Honourable Justice with a Phoolan Gamocha and a bouquet followed by an informal conversation between Justice Gogoi and the Principal sharing their place of birth and also reminiscing some memories of early days. He also took us to a nostalgic journey mentioning his father Late Kesab Chandra Gogoi's (Former Chief Minister of Assam) dedication to his work even if he used to earn a meagre amount of only Rs. 20/-. His hardwork and legacy had inspired Justice Gogoi to take off on the very same field.

Thereafter, the Principal introduced the faculty members and the students who were warmly greeted by him. The Honourable Justice asked about the aims and ambitions of the students and advised them to pursue the LL.M degree before they get into preparation for any competitive exams. Moreover, he also advised the students to pursue their Master Degree abroad if possible as it would give a great exposure and a chance to meet people from different countries. So throughout the interview session there were some questions which were put forward by the Principal, the faculty members and the students to which the Honourable Justice had given his reply based on his experiences throughout his journey in the legal field.

1. Sir, as you have advised the students to pursue the Masters abroad, what difference do you find in the system of education provided by the Law Colleges/Schools in India and those of abroad? (Principal Sir's Question)

Ans. The laws are same all throughout the world, however there are certain procedural differences in laws that can be seen, but the substantive part of the laws of different nations are more or less the same. The only reason of suggesting the students to study abroad is that they would be able to meet more people from different nations which would give them exposure and experiences because the students who would come for studies in a university abroad would belong to different cultures and society, and Education is not only about the textbook knowledge because it can easily be picked up by anyone, so to have a good quality education we need a good exposure.

The Honourable Justice also added to the conversation that Education is a continuous process. But it is very unfortunate to see that most of the students after obtaining their degree opts for different professions, be it advocacy, judiciary, or corporate, but they are reluctant to opt for the teaching profession.

People fail to realise that teachers are the backbone for the development of legal education in the country. One of the reasons why the students are hesitant to go into teaching profession is because of less remuneration. The only way to make the teaching profession more attractive is to make it more remunerative.

In the midst of the conversation, he also mentioned about the top most International Law Universities (Yale University, Stanford University, Harvard University, Columbia University) where the students can go for pursuing their degrees. Mentioning about the Indian Legal System, he said that the Bar Council of India had taken a very good initiative in the year 1988, especially stating about Professor Madhav Menon and his initiatives of establishing the National Law Universities with an intent of making more people join the bar.

2. Sir, how should one present oneself before the Court? (Student query)

Ans. On this query, the Justice was of the opinion that there are no such specific criteria which should be followed to present oneself before the court of law. The only thing that one should follow is to be the real self and not to present a fake personality because that would create a negative impression on the Judges.

3. Sir, what is your view on Legal Education?

Ans. The Honourable Justice on this query opined that Education is a continuous process. But it is very unfortunate to see that most of the students after obtaining their degree opts for different

Council of India in supervising legal education. Sir had also mentioned that the education of the private college is not upto the mark and hence certain changes are of utmost importance. Sir with his years of wisdom and life experiences enlightened us with the fact that students must have the strong desire to learn things properly and the most important thing is self-confidence which surely leads them to a better future.

professions, be it advocacy, judiciary, or corporate, but they are reluctant to opt for the teaching profession. People fail to realise that teachers are the backbone for the development of legal education in the country. One of the reasons why the students are hesitant to go into teaching profession is because of less remuneration. The only way to make the teaching profession more attractive is to make it more remunerative.

In the midst of the conversation, he also mentioned about the top most International Law Universities (Yale University, Stanford University, Harvard University, Columbia University) where the students can go for pursuing their degrees. Mentioning about the Indian Legal System, he said that the Bar Council of India had taken a very good initiative in the year 1988, especially stating about Professor Madhav Menon and his initiatives of establishing the National Law Universities with an intent of making more people join the bar.

Then, the interaction shifted to the role of judiciary in globalization to which he said that judiciary is the instrument, it didn't create any obstacle. Both the judge as well as the lawyers play an important and effective role. Later our Principal Sir asked Ranjan sir to give a brief on the revival of legal language. To this particular question, Ranjan Gogoi Sir had spoken about National Education Policy and its upliftment and also the role which needs to be played by the Bar

As we all know that nowadays people can get more and more information from the internet and therefore no one can make the complaint regarding the lack of information from the internet sources and therefore the extent of knowledge of the students must not be information related. Moreover, Sir had also said that the faculty of any institution have the utmost duty of guiding the students whereas willingness should be there among the students to grasp the individuality of the activities.

4. Sir, what would your advice be to the youngsters, who aspire to make it big in the times to come?

Always to believe in the philosophy of hard work and self-confidence. No one should depend on the fate of oneself. There are no short cuts to achieve one's goal and there is no substitute for hardwork.

Ranjan Gogoi Sir had been a follower certain principles throughout his journey which he shared to us stating that :

1. Self-Learning is the key to success in the field of litigation
2. According to him, one must take the positive side from any situation which they may face in their respective professional field

Added to this Ranjan Sir had also shared with us his own experiences regarding how he prepared himself during the days of his litigation when sometimes he used to pen down certain points even at 3 am in the morning if it comes to his mind thereby exhibiting his purposive mindset.

He said that the field of law is diverse in nature. Any person having the degree can opt for either litigation, civil service, teaching, corporate sector etc. He also said that one must always be limpid that if someone is unable to make the case, it will get dismissed at the very first instance.

He also shared his journey and experience from Dibrugarh to Delhi as well as from Advocate to Chief Justice of India and the challenges he had to face on a daily basis, varying from case to case. He said that every case is interesting as it has its own story and being an Advocate or Judge, they have certain duties where they need to focus on the public interest and also the time management along with the control of the courtroom.

The interview with Ranjan Sir concluded with his notion "Lawyer doesn't control the court room, The Judge does". The interactive session was a helpful insight where we could perceive through his impeccable journey that there are no shortcuts to success and only hardwork can make us achieve what we aim for.
